

About Qyooz

At Qyooz we are delivering a special kind of CRM. We are making the customer-vendor relationship sustainable and helping companies move away from the ineffective transactional sales approach. We are all about continuous and strong relationships and we support this within our team philosophy. We challenge ourselves to challenge the product to create a stage of mutual growth.

As a PO at Qyooz, you will have an explicit impact over shaping the Product we are offering to the market , hence directly influencing the success of our customer's businesses.

Your Role

Product Owner (m/f/d) 40h/week

- Define priorities and follow a customer-centric roadmap
- Closely collaborate with the product teams (designers, engineers) and Business Development Manager Own and manage the product backlog to deliver business value
- Collect user insights from A/B testing and apply them towards creating product concepts and validating them
- Manage product KPIs and work on perfecting the product performance in order to achieve great user experience and full satisfaction

Your Profile

- 3+ years experience in product management
- Strong team management and communication skills.
- Exceptional skills in product management: prioritization, roadmap creation and product execution and delivery.
- Problem solving and analytical skills, direct hands on approach and critical decision making
- Passion for innovation and tech and a good understanding of the market
- Fluency in English and German

Benefits

Competitive Salary ● An international team ● Supportive co-working environment ● Home office ● Fun team events ● Office snacks and lemonade